2. The Bijapur Electric License, 1926, was originally granted to Mr. Abul Kayum Gulamally, who has recently assigned the license with the consent of Govt. to the Bijapur El. Supply Co. Ltd. With the assignment of the license, the whole of the undertaking including the security deposit in respect of the license it becomes the property of the assignee Coy. The security deposit of Rs.1,000/- in the present case will therefore be considered as held in the name of the Bijapur Elec. Supply Co., Ltd., and the interest warrants relating thereto will now be endorsed in favour of the Coy.

3. Further, in this connection it may be stated that the security deposited by a licensee need not be retained longer than it is absolutely necy. As soon as the work in the compulsory area is completed and supply started the security may be safely returned to the licensee. The El.Engr. to Govt. may therefore be requested to state whether there is any objection to the return of the security to the licensee in the present case.
